Belmont, Mass.

In recent months, I have received numerous inquiries at my office, home and around town, regarding the proposed development in Cushing Square. This has prompted me to write this Letter to the Editor for clarification purposes.

My name is Chris Starr. I am a long-time Belmont resident and I am a real estate developer (my business specializes in the redevelopment of historic mill buildings into housing). However, I am not the same Chris Starr who is proposing a large development in Cushing Square. In fact, I have never met, nor have any relation, to the individual proposing the development.

My hope is that this letter clarifies any confusion people may have regarding the identity of the developer of the proposed Cushing Square project. — Chris Starr
